

Building Materials Match-making event
19-22 Feb 2009

CERECO SA, partner of the Enterprise Europe Network - Hellas is very pleased to announce an international match-making event in the field of building materials during the 26th edition of INFACOMA 2009, which will take place on the 19-22 February 2009, in Thessaloniki, Greece, at the venue of the exhibition center Helexpo.

INFACOMA is an International Exhibition for building materials, construction, insulation, and pre-construction technologies.

The main goal of the match-making event, during “INFACOMA 2009” is to encourage meetings between technology developers and technology users in order to foster technological and business co-operation in the field of building materials.

This event is an ideal platform to:

- Meet partners (especially from Balkan countries)
- Talk to potential users of technologies, products or processes.
- Get informed about the latest technological trends.
- Develop trans-national business contacts.
- Initiate technical co-operation or technology transfer.

Participants will be able to schedule in advance and attend one-to-one meetings with pre-selected business partners. More specifically on pre-arranged dates and time, visitors from the Balkan countries will meet the exhibitors, in order to start new co-operations.

For this purpose you are kindly requested to fill in and send to the organizers the registration form attached.

The participation to business meetings is free of charge.

Important dates:

- Registration & submission of profiles: 30 January 2009
- Requesting meetings: 6 February 2009
- Confirming meetings: 12 February 2009
- Receiving meeting schedules: 16 February 2009.
